PD&E stands for Project Development and Environment

A PD&E Study is prepared to determine social, economic and environmental impacts associated with a project. It is conducted to provide the following information:

- Need for the project
- Benefits and impacts to the community and environment
- Design options
- Cost

Why do we conduct PD&E Studies?

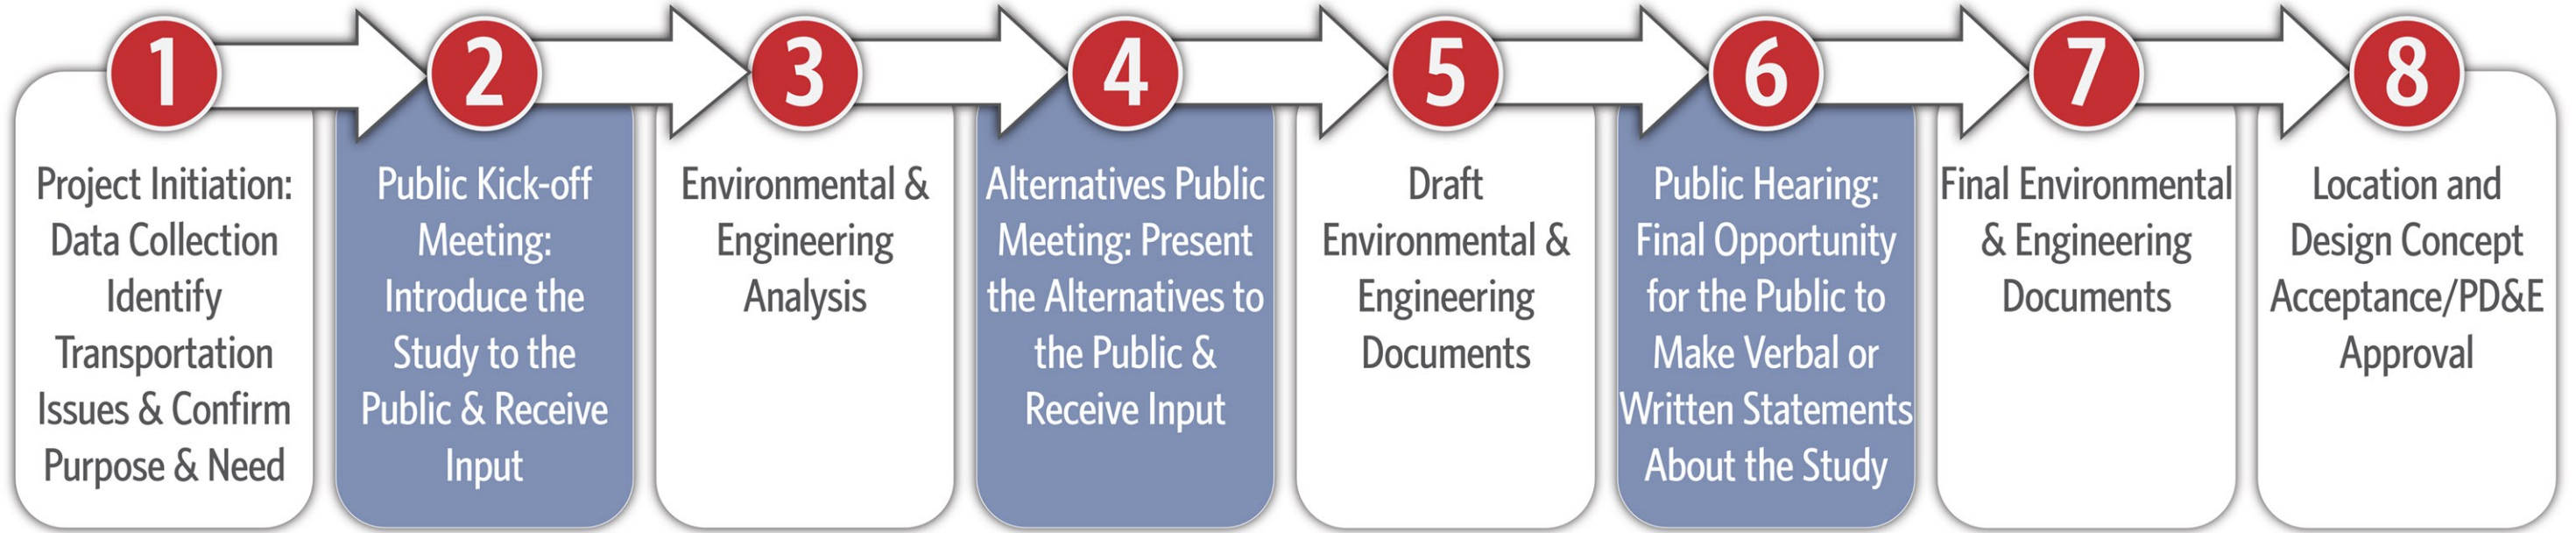

It is required by the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA), either in order to be eligible for money from the federal government or if federal permits are required.
